

PSG Solutions plc
Interim results for the 6 months ended 30 September 2010

PSG Solutions plc ('The Group') comprises Property Information Services Businesses ('PSG'), Audiotel International Limited ('Audiotel') and Moore & Buckle (Flexible Packaging) Limited ('M&B').

PSG is a major provider of residential property searches, and Energy Performance Certificates ('EPCs') to both the residential and commercial property marketplace in England and Wales. PSG trades both through its expanded wholly owned operation based in Yorkshire and its national network of PSG Brand Franchisees across England and Wales.

Audiotel is a leading manufacturer and supplier of audio surveillance and counter surveillance equipment mainly supplying state agencies. It has a portfolio of products and brands that are internationally respected.

M&B provides specialist bespoke flexible packaging solutions.

Highlights

- Group loss before taxation £315,000 (2009: profit £349,000).
- PSG's operating loss was £197,000 (2009: profit £289,000). The reduction in profitability reflects the continued low level of residential property transactions, a squeeze on margins and the abolition of Home Information Packs ('HIPs').
- Audiotel's operating loss was £67,000 (2009: profit £78,000). The decline in profitability was largely due to the reduced budgets of many of Audiotel's long standing customers.
- M&B's operating profits increased to £142,000 (2009: £106,000).
- Net cash was £3.4m (2009: £4.1m).

Chairman's statement

for the six months ended 30 September 2010

PSG

PSG has maintained its position as one of the leading suppliers of personal searches and related products required by home purchasers. These include environmental reports, chancel checks and a variety of other reports relevant to particular geographical areas. However, thinner margins, the continuing low volume of residential property transactions, some continuing restrictions in accessing local authority records and the abolition of HIPs made trading difficult. The demise of HIPs, whilst well flagged, happened much more quickly than anticipated and removed at a stroke a substantial volume of business. PSG was obliged to review and reduce its cost base in order to meet these challenges.

The current strategy is to ensure that PSG can trade profitably in the future and to build the business in a commercial environment where there is unlikely to be any further substantial regulatory action that impinges upon trading. A benefit flowing from the demise of HIPs has been a move away from the reliance on estate agents and a steady return to the ordering of local searches by solicitors who have been PSG's traditional customers. Their concern for quality and accountability fits well with PSG's hands-on bespoke service.

Future emphasis will be on the regular enhancement of the products on offer and the development through PSG Connect of on-line support systems for seamless delivery thereof. PSG Convey is an innovative software solution which allows estate agents and solicitors to work together to manage the key stages in the conveyancing process.

The performance of PSG Energy has been disappointing due to the absence of a properly regulated market place which would create a more relevant report on the energy aspects of a property. The EPC is generally considered to be of minimal value or commercial relevance. There is no effective system for enforcement. After the end of the financial period PSG Energy has been restructured to enhance its ability to trade profitably.

At some point in the future the Department for Communities and Local Government and the Department for the Environment and Climate Change is expected to put in place appropriate regulations for enforcing compliant and relevant property energy reports. This would be to the benefit of PSG Energy's operations.

Audiotel

Audiotel's operating loss of £67,000 reflects the general reduction in spending by its traditional public body customers. Since 30 September the order book has increased substantially and there is the prospect of securing a further major contract.

M&B

M&B's operating profit of £142,000 (2009: £106,000) was a significant improvement on the first half of the previous financial year, despite challenging trading conditions.

Cash

The intention to return cash to shareholders remains under review.

Outlook

Although the trading performance of PSG has been poor, significant steps have been taken to eliminate losses. At the same time progress has been made in providing additional support to the franchisees and in developing on-line systems which will assist in today's difficult markets.

Audiotel has been heavily focused on developing a suite of new products which it believes will be particularly attractive to several major customers.

M&B's trading is expected to continue at present levels.
